Environment Awareness Program

The increasing loss of local ecological knowledge may have negative impacts on the flexibility of socio- ecological systems. So understanding and preserving traditional ecological knowledge and practices are essential for the cultural diversity of humanity. So we organized Environment-Plants Awareness Programme which was planned by Swasthan Paryavaran Vikas Trust-Bhuj-Kachchh from 7 to 10 January 2019 in our college with the help of NCC cadets as volunteers.

“Health is real Wealth” it’s not only a proverb, it is reality of the mankind so the aim of this programme is to introduce our valuable wealth of plants to younger generation and try to attract them towards our traditional remedies which are useful to empower health of our society and specially youth who are escaping from our origin-root and life giving sources of mankind. So it is necessary to know medicinal plants surrounding us to use them in the best way.

During this programme all the students of our college were given the knowledge of plants and their uses. If the young generation be physically fit, mental peace will be naturally in them. In this way the society will be healthy. So we tried to make the pillars of the society healthier and happier.

✚ The Theatrical Journey of “MAI GANDEVI NO GALO” from Page to Stage SPONSORED BY GUJARAT STATE SANGEET NATAK ACADEMY

With a strong commitment on behalf of the government of Gujarat to preserve the identity of Marginalized cultures to bring them in the spot light, Gujarat Natak Akademy sponsored the first tribal Adivasi play, written in their vernacular language “Main Gandevi No Gab” playwright Satish Vyash has been successful to strike two birds with the same stone. One is to present the culture crisis which “Gheriyas” of south Gujarat are facing to sustain the vanishing form of art getting lost in the oblivion and another to capture the ventricular language of these community people, which was previously, used to beget humor only- aim to save the language and the contemporary problems these community people face in search of their integrity’.

The play is being taught as a text in the syllabus of Gujarati subject at graduation level in Veer Narmd South Gujarat University. We belonging to this dialect- felt like adopting this play and as prompted by the playwright our college J.Z. Shah and H.P. Desai Commerce College, Amroli. Surat decided to apply for the Sangeet Natak Academy Scheme to save the vanishing traditions of Adivasi. Luckily we got the grant and we presented 6 shows in different parts of Gujarat as well as Salvasa, where the language can be understood appreciated and the audience could relate to the tradition of “Gherias”- the adivasi dancing communities.

The play’s preface was first written by the director- in the text. Later it came as challenge to present the play along with its traditions.

For that research paper was prepared and presented at the “AdiUtsav” conducted by N.S.D- Delhi in Nashik. The paper introduced who this community is, why do the farm workers after harvest time dress themselves like women and visit sophisticate or rich people to collect money from the dance. They did for “MATA’ Devi during Navratri festival. It also presented the different parts of this dance, their significance and use.

Then came the casting of the play. Our principle Dr. K.N Chavda allowed me to have a happy combination of present students and some who have just passed out and our alumni members of our college.

The play received great acclaim, long standing ovations and fantastic media coverage wherever it was performed. We presented the play in Surat at Ghandi Smruti Bhavan, Nanpura. Then, at Valsad college campus (this is the town whose Valsadi Gujarati the accent used by the playwright in this play). Thereafter it was presented in Ahmadabad in the premises of Gujarat Sahitya Parishad with the most illustrious audience who made us feel like rock stars, shaking hands with one and all at the curtain call then we performed the play at Chnachi Mehta Hall, M.S. University premises Baroda. Where again we had excellent audience, who acclaimed the performance. We had literary stalwarts like Gunvant Bhai Shah, P.S Chari, jaidev Shukla, Professor Modi and many others. We made another performance near Ghandevi- the place mentioned in the title at Billimora Somnath Mandir hall with a very huge audience at last. The last performance was done out of the state at Salvasa, Union territory where the audience was comparative less but highly receptive.

The grand success of these shows goes to the credit of one and all who took part in the play. We had a team of 25 actors including lights, sound operators and set workers.

The success was mainly due to playwright Dr. Satish Vyash, Gujarat Sangeet Natya Akedemi Ghandinagar, who sponsors the play, the actors who worked almost for two months to give life to the characters making it an excellent team work The illustrious audiences provided to us by all those who invited us to present the play. Last but not the least our liven Jyot Amroli college Parivar who took great care of all of us and god almighty who made these attempts an unforgettable experiences of our lives.
